7. An explanation of why the interim rule is necessary, including documentary evidence to prove that the agency is acting in accordance with RSA 541-A:19, I, and is not adopting an interim rule solely to avoid the time periods imposed in RSA 541-A.

The Public Utilities Commission (NHPUC) is submitting this interim rule proposal to comply with the mandates of 2010 Senate Bill 425, which incorporated the newly-adopted RSA 365:8, XIV (please see attached copies of SB 425 materials). SB 425 repealed, with an effective date of December 19, 2010, the former RSA 378:43 (Information Not Subject to Right-to-Know Law) provision applicable to telephone utilities. This repeal, and the statutory obligations of RSA 365:8, XIV, provide the impetus for the development of this timely interim rule proposal. The NHPUC is proceeding with this interim rule proposal to allow for a test period of the proposed interim rule's new standards and procedures for public utilities to request protection of routine filings that contain confidential commercial or financial information, as required by RSA 365:8, XIV. This test period is expected to generate comment by practitioners before the NHPUC, which could be used to improve the rules proposal as submitted for the Regular Rules process.

8. A description of the people, enterprises, and government agencies affected by the rule.

This proposed rule would affect:

- (1) Public utilities requesting protection of routine filings containing confidential commercial or financial information;
- (2) All persons or entities (including government agencies) seeking access to such materials.
