Re: Renewal of Gas Aggregator/Broker License for Taylor Consulting and Contracting

Dear Ms. Howland:

Enclosed please find an original and two copies of the application of Taylor Consulting and Contracting for renewal of the above referenced gas aggregator/broker license, along with a diskette, and a check for $125.00. The current registration was filed in 1999 and was assigned docket number DM 09-077.

The only material change in the application is that I am now 100% owner. Todd Goulet is no longer a 2.5 % owner as I purchased his membership interest in July 2010.

Also, I noticed that our corporate website is not included with the information in our listing in the Gas Aggregator section of your website. I would appreciate it if you would include it at your earliest convenience. It is www.taylorcc.com. Thank you.

We currently serve commercial and industrial customers; however, we would like to add service to residential customers later this year. We would use the same business model currently employed and would not take title to electricity or collect money from customers. Our fee would be paid directly to us by suppliers. Please advise whether any additional steps need to be taken to include residential service in our offerings.

I would also like to recognize your employee, Bob Wyatt, for his assistance and patience in this matter. The public is often quick to criticize public servants and lax in offering compliments so I wanted to note his exemplary service. It is greatly appreciated.

Please contact me at the number below, extension 223, if you require any additional information or clarification. I can also be reached via email at ktomaine@taylorcc.com. Thank you very much for your attention in this matter.

Sincerely,

Karen Tomaine
Chief Executive Officer
