Good Morning David,

We intend to apply as an electric aggregator. Thank you and I deeply apologize for the confusion.

Best wishes,
Gerard

Gerard,

In your cover letter for Nextility, Inc.'s filing (attached), received by the Commission on 8/10/2015, you state that you are submitting an application for a competitive electric power supplier (CEPS) license. However, based on the check you submitted for the filing, $250-, which is the fee charged for an initial electric aggregator registration, and the form and responses you provided with your application, which are consistent with those required for an electric aggregator registration, Nextility's filing appears to be for an electric aggregator registration. Just to be sure, however, please respond by indicating the purpose of the application (if it is for an electric aggregator registration or for a CEPS license).

Thank you.
