Daniel Goldner, Chair
April 28, 2023

In this filing, the Company requests changes to the Company's permanent rates that are intended to yield an increase of $15.5 million in annual operating revenues to be effective July 1, 2023. To provide time to review the Company's request, the Company also requests a temporary increase in distribution rates of $6.7 million to be effective July 1, 2023.

The Company also requests approval of a three-year forward-looking multi-year rate plan for the rate years ending June 30, 2024, June 30, 2025, and June 30, 2026.

Finally, the Company requests a waiver of the requirement to file proposed clean and redlined versions of the tariff pages showing the proposed temporary rates due to the timing of the filing. Redlined tariff pages filed now will be obsolete in the coming weeks as the Company implements a number of recently approved rate changes.

Puc 1603.05(a)(1) states: "A utility that proposes to revise an existing tariff shall submit ... [t]he entire page on which any revision occurs." The Company notes that tariff pages filed now to reflect how the requested temporary rates vary from existing rates will no longer be accurate or helpful given the upcoming rate changes in other dockets.

The Commission "shall waive the provisions of any of its rules ... if the commission finds that: (1) The waiver serves the public interest; and (2) the waiver will not disrupt the orderly and efficient resolution of matters before the commission." Puc 201.05(a). When considering whether a waiver request serves the public interest, "the commission shall waive a rule if ... [t]he purpose of the rule would be satisfied by an alternative method proposed." Puc 201.05(b).

The Company proposes an alternative to satisfy the intent of the rule by filing clean and redline tariff pages in advance of the hearing on temporary rates, likely to be held in June. Those redlined tariff pages would clearly show the impact of the proposed temporary rates.

Pursuant to the Commission's March 17, 2020, secretarial letter, only an electronic version of the above documents will be filed. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Michael J. Sheehan
