MATTHEW A. TROMBLY

Co-Founder & CEO

Our CEO is responsible for the overall management and performance of Single Source Energy Solutions. His key day-to-day focus is developing and maintaining the company's Energy Efficiency, Energy Management and Renewable Energy Projects. Matthew has extensive experience, having held numerous management positions in the energy industry over the past six years. For example as Regional Vice President for Solar Blue, a Florida based energy Services Company; he alone was responsible for high-level business development decision making, solution implementation oversight and staff management. He also founded an energy representation firm resulting in more than $50MM in business development over two years.

BRANDON M. JORDAN

Co-Founder, President & CFO

Our President/CFO is responsible for managing our human and capital resources to ensure optimum productivity in the working environment. Brandon is quite knowledgeable of the energy business, most notably from his experience as a Business Development Manager with a leading retail electricity supply firm based out of Massachusetts. Additionally, as an Assistant Vice President a well renowned asset management firm, Brandon co-managed a portfolio of office and industrial assets worth approximately $1.1 billion. Brandon was also a Senior Consultant for a premiere global consulting firm where he focused on the management and development of forensic and dispute services.

GRAIG R. JOYCE

Executive Vice President

Director of Competitive Procurement

Mr. Joyce, as a partner in Single Source Energy Solutions holds the position of Executive Vice President – Director of Competitive Procurement. Graig is responsible for all aspects of operations for our Competitive Procurement division. He draws on his extensive experience from his role as Senior Vice President of New England at a leading retail electricity supply firm based out of Massachusetts where he managed 7 Regional Directors and their sales team. Graig was responsible for the development and implementation of more than 2 billion kWh's of retail electricity supply. His knowledge of the energy business provides Single Source Energy Solutions with a superior ability to provide its clients with custom energy buying solutions.

ROBERT J. ANDREWS

Chief Information Officer

Mr. Andrews provides up-to-date energy intelligence and analytics, ensuring that SSEC remains a market leader in the independent energy-consulting arena. Roberts' role is to supply Single Source Energy Solutions clients and consultants with unbiased energy related reports that focus on current trends and issues within the global energy market. This crucial role highlights Single Source Energy Solutions commitment to knowledge, which is important in ensuring Single Source Energy Solutions consultants provide the most innovative and cost efficient strategies to our clients. Robert has a vast knowledge of the energy marketplace due to his work at the power intelligence firm, EnvaPower. Robert has also worked as a senior industry research analyst, focusing on real estate, transportation and financial services and has been featured in various publications, including the Risk Management Association Journal and Manufacturing Engineering magazine.

SCOTT RINDNER

Senior Financial Advisor

Mr. Rindner has held various executive roles as CEO, CFO in industries such as healthcare, information technology, finance and renewable energy technology. During this time Scott was responsible for financial operations, business development, mergers and acquisitions, raising capital and successful exits to corporate buyers and the public market. Scott has also assisted in raising over $1 billion in equity and debt financing in initial and secondary public offerings, private placements, venture capital and institutional credit facilities for Fortune 100, start-up and development stage ventures. Scott is also a founder and Managing Director of RFA Global Energy Group (RFA). RFA is headquartered in Danville, California. RFA was founded by a dedicated group of highly experienced energy sector specialists for the purpose of acquiring and enhancing the production of under-performing oil and gas properties, as well as marketing and trading petroleum products to refineries, utilities, pipelines and consumers throughout Europe, Asia, South America, Middle East, the United States and Canada. Scott is a Certified Public Accountant and licensed in California and New York since 1979.
