Subject: Electric Supply Rates

I just learned that Liberty Utilities will be raising it's rates next month from $0.07732 to $0.154. I understand that supply rates typically increase in the winter but the previous two years this has only been by 1 or 2 cents per kilowatt hour. For someone with moderate electric usage, this is a $400 seasonal increase over last year! Why are they being permitted to double their rates?
