Subject: Net metering

Dear Ms Howland,

I'm writing from France, a country which relies on nuclear power to generate 80% of its electricity. This is also a place where we've been advised to avoid eating certain mushrooms which are grown in soil which was polluted by fallout from Chernobyl years ago.

This is NOT the sort of legacy I want for my children and my "grands."

Please do all you can to make solar and wind installations economical. Please do all you can to make the process user-friendly for consumers. Please do all you can to simplify the regs for group net metering.

Thanks in advance.

Heading home to our clean little state.
