To the Director, NHPUC:

I am writing in support of net metering for solar installations in New Hampshire, and to express my support for solar electricity in our state. I live in a home powered by solar panels and can attest that New Hampshire is the perfect place to install solar. My home in Dublin produces almost as much electricity as I use.

Net metering benefits all electricity customers and attracts more solar installations, in the movement towards a clean energy future for our children. Our state should promote solar energy as a way for families to control how they power their homes and to reduce pollution levels in our region.

Sincerely,

Nancy Nolan
