Dear Mint Customer:

Thank you for being a valued customer of Mint Energy. In accordance with the terms of your company's Electricity Supply Agreement ("ESA") with Mint Energy ("Mint"), Mint is sending you this notification of assignment of your company's ESA to Energy Rewards, LLC ("Energy Rewards"), a member of the Crius Energy family of brands. The New Hampshire Public Utilities Commission requires that customers receive this notice at least 30 days prior to an assignment. Your meter(s) will switch to Energy Rewards and the assignment will become effective on the next available meter read date for your company's account(s) occurring after the 30-day waiting period ends. Below is a brief overview about the assignment of your company's ESA:

- The assignment will be without charge.
- There will be no changes in the material terms and conditions, including price and duration, as set forth in your company's ESA.
- The assignment is allowed per the terms and conditions of your company's ESA.
- No action is required from your company for the assignment to occur.
- Your company may decline to be assigned to Energy Rewards, in accordance with the cancellations provisions of your company's ESA, but may be subject to an early termination fee.
- If your company declines to have the current ESA assigned, then your company's account(s) will be returned to basic service with the local distribution company unless your company chooses to sign a new agreement with Energy Rewards or move to another competitive supplier.
- In order to select an alternate supplier, which may include a return to utility default service, your company should make the selection within thirty (30) days of the date of this notice.
- No early termination charges will apply if your company is a "Small Commercial Customer."

If your company is represented by an aggregator, consultant, or broker, Mint will also notify them of this assignment.
