Daniel Golden, Chairman
NH PUC

Dear Mr Golden: I strongly urge passage and approval of the Eversource Utilities make ready and demand charges proposal. The reality is that a seachange is occurring and vehicles are rapidly transitioning to electric power. NH businesses and its economy depend on attracting tourism and businesses to our state. As the states around us invest in EV charging, the choice to travel here for pleasure or to invest as an employer or manufacturer will surely take the availability of EV charging into account--both for convenience and as an indicator of our commitment to providing the necessary infrastructure and technology for tomorrow's successful businesses.

Owners of EV's will spend their discretionary dollars in our state while their cars are charging--whether its at a water park, restaurant, shopping mall, or campground. But this money will be spent in Massachusetts, Maine or Vermont if NH doesn't enable their travel here.

Don't let the "NH advantage" of no sales tax be negated by the NH disadvantage of not being able to power your car if you visit here.

Regards,

Marjorie Rogalski
